New Year- New Journey

Happy New Year! We did it! It's time to make the journey to Papua New Guinea and what a journey it will be. Four flights, 16 hour time difference, and 25+ hours in the air. Your prayers would be greatly appreciated. My first plane leaves from St. Louis on January 8th and I arrive in Papua New Guinea on January 11th.

When I arrive in Papua New Guinea, I'll head to the east coast to Madang where I will be involved in a twelve week Pacific Orientation Course. For more information about this training, please read December's newsletter. Because internet and electricity will not always be readily available during training, I will not be sending out another newsletter until April. However, when possible I will be adding short updates to my blog at www.armstrongpng.weebly.com.

Thank you for all of your prayers and partnership in 2014. I'm looking forward to what God has in store for this ministry in 2015!

Prayer Requests

Journey to Papua New Guinea

The journey begins in St. Louis on January 8th and ends in Papua New Guinea on January 11th. Please pray for safe travel, the correct sorting of luggage all the way, and easy goodbyes.

Idi Language Group

Pray for the Idi language group in Papua New Guinea and that God would raise up missionaries and the resources necessary to start a Bible translation project there.
